

MTR International

October Monthly Update

News from the Field Director

We've successfully moved to a new apartment, just one block away from our old one. It's a two bedroom flat, similar in size and a bit more expensive in rent. We hope to settle there as long as God will allow us. Thank you for your prayers.

At the end of September, Randy, our Executive Director, and I visited church planters in Belarus. We traveled to three major cities: Minsk, Mogilev and Gomel. It was a great time of personal interaction, teaching, experience sharing, encouragement and mutual prayer.

Our Home Bible Study group successfully relaunched in a new location. As the school year continues, we are considering opening our home to a student group. Please pray for God's wisdom in this endeavor.

I'm planning to take my last ministry education course (TCMI) for this year at the end of October. I'll also be traveling to the US for ICOM (the International Conference on Missions) in mid November. Please pray for my family and our church plant during my time away.

See you at ICOM

MTR International will be exhibiting at ICOM (The International Conference on Missions) again this year. Find our booth as well as Light to the World Ministries at the Kansas City Convention Center on November 14-16. We love meeting our supporters and prayer partners face to face.

Alex Gribov will be with us representing Light to the World Christian Academy in Kostroma Russia, and Sasha Lukmanov will be there too. They will be available for giving updates on their ministries for you to take home to your churches and Sunday school classes and life groups.

We hope to see you there!
